Apprentice Centre

Looking to upskill your staff and advance your business?

Enhancing the skills of your existing staff has many benefits, to your employees and to your business

New incentives* are available from 1 January 2010 in a range of diploma and advanced diploma qualifications.

The Australian Apprenticeships program now provides incentives up to $4000 to employers who engage their employees into nationally recognised diplomas and advanced diploma qualifications.

Employees, including those who already hold certificate III or IV qualifications, may now attract incentives. New and existing employees are eligible for diploma and advanced diploma qualifications.
